State Treasurer Broward Williams says: "A vast new influx of Cuban refugees is strictly within the jurisdiction of the Federal government."

"We are hopeful," he continues "that the Federal government will again act with due speed to re-locate the new refugees as soon as practicable and we hope also that the Federal authority will respond with financial help so that the great burden will not be placed on our economy again."

City Beautification Program Meeting Set For Thurs. Night

Basic plans have been formulated on the city-wide Beautification program — Operation Face Lift — and parts of the well planned program will begin to be activated shortly, according to Dr. Don Fildes, who heads the program, which is sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce. The executive board met Monday night and a full committee meeting is called for Thursday night, 8 o'clock, October 21, at the Chamber building. All committee workers and interested citizens are urged to be present.

Jaycees Back Governor's Road Bond Issue

At Thursday night's regular meeting of the Belle Glade Jaycees it was approved unanimously to back Governor Burn's $300 million road bond issue. It was announced by President Jim Normand that the Jaycees believe that it is vital to the residents and industry of the Glades area as this would probably step up the four laning of State Road 80 by a good ten years and at present-day building costs of roads in the Glades of $900,000 per mile. The Jaycees feel that this cost probably double on the next ten years. Therefore it would be profitable to improve the roads on borrowed money, at present-day building costs and have the use of these roads when they are needed the most than to take chances of waiting ten years and paying cash.

Selected Agriculturists Of USA To Visit Glades Next Friday

The Agriculture Committee of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce will see first hand what it looks like down on the farm in the Lake Okechobee area Friday when the Florida Fruit and Vegetable Association takes the groups on an all-day tour.

George H. Wedgworth of Belle Glade, newly elected FFVA President, will head the hosting party whose Chairman Robert C. Woodworth, Secretary-Treasurer and Director of the Cargill Foundation, Minneapolis, Minn.

Our Marina--

Companion Attraction To Silver Springs & Cypress Gardens

The plan adopted for improving the south approximately 25 acres of the 40-acre tract in the Belle Glade Marina, when completed, will round out facilities for fresh water aquatic recreation.

Added to the recently built Pavilion in facilities for group activities will be an open-air platform in the "Scout Camping Area" with semi-circular seating. Covered picnic tables, each with an outdoor fire-place and cooking facilities, and refuse receptacles are supplemented with grouped tables and singles under trees and facing the water.

Comfort stations (4) are conveniently arranged; fresh water is piped to convenient spots throughout with drinking fountains spoiled about. Electrical power and light facilities are included in the plans.

Boat slips to harbor more than 250 boats will have been provided when the plans are complete under present expectations.

Camping facilities include a house-trailer section, a Scout Camping area as well as a tent and "under the Stars" area.

Boat ramps are placed for convenience of trailer-borne visitors; a wharf is to be built at the northeast corner of the plot; a substantial dock will be available for boaters needing it.

Swimmers are protected in a cable-surrounded area, with a diving platform in the center.

The new boat-slip channels are protected by a cable with gate and locking arrangements. Planning for the fisherman with ambulatory inclinations is experienced; facilities for the salt-water based boats that need a temporary resting place in fresh water have been thought of; wharves of tying up; docks for the incapacitated.

For the week-ender in a trailer or house-car, he is invited to bring those things he needs for camping, fishing, boating, swimming, skiing — the facilities and conveniences are in the Belle Glade Marina.

If he needs supplies for the car, for the boat, for the inner man, food for the fish, AND bait, the telephone is available to local suppliers, and some are close at hand.

This first phase of the plans for the Islands Recreation Center in Lake Okechobee is an inspiration to the Chamber of Commerce's Committee, the City Fathers and others interested in seeing the Lake Okechobee Recreation Center become, in a few years, one of the "Musts" of Florida and southeastern U. S.

A perspective has been vivid; planning has been professional; action has been definite by local interests; cooperation with existing governmental agencies from the City, Port Authority, County and State up to the beguiles of Federal beneficence, has been most effective.

Men and women of this Community, in this over-all project, have supplemented Nature's Bounty, with man's ideas of convenience and comfort have begun the project which will rank in the future, with Silver Springs and Cypress Gardens as tourists attractions.

Glades' Oldest Coop Elects Officers

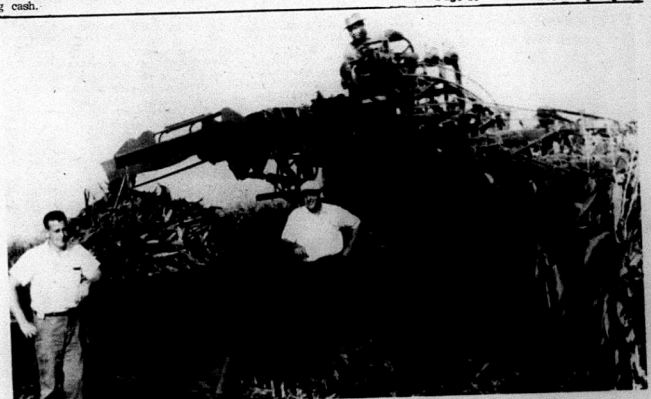

W. H. Buss

At its fifteenth annual stockholders meeting, October 12th, in the Board Room of the Pioneer Growers Cooperative, the Board of Directors, following its election, selected W. H. Buss as its President for the coming year.

Donald Kirchman was elected as Vice President and Frank C. Dooley was re-elected as Secretary-Treasurer.

In the election of the Board by the membership, Mr. Buss and Robt. Apelgren were re-elected to three-year terms; James Chambliss was elected to fill the unexpired term of the late A. J. Sullivan. Carry-

Glades Ingenuity Overcomes "Old Maid's" Free Advice

We're told that an Old Maid is many times a valuable volunteer on "How Best to Rear Children." Glades farmers are experiencing similar advice from high government sources on "How to Harvest Crops with American Labor." Glades farmers have given these suggestions about our own citizens harvesting willingness and efficiency a real try in desperation. Continuous recruiting of any human that is able to walk, stoop and straighten up has been energetically practiced throughout the United States.

Workers recruited have been scarce and very costly; their regularity at the job is at a low percentage; their efficiency is at least 40 to 50 percent under the off-shore labor heretofore used, according to farmers' records of results. The Glades farmer has decided that he must try to solve his problems in his own way, without the advice of Washington. "D. Goodness," he has turned his abilities to mechanical harvesting, and a consequent lessening of use of hand labor.

Vernie Boots, as engineer and designer, with James Hooks builder have demonstrated a two-row sweet corn harvesting machine that requires one man to operate, and one man to drive an accompanying wagon or truck. The machine pulls two rows at a time, leaving a six to eight inch stubble and distributing the stalk fodder and tops on the field. It is estimated that the machine will average three miles per hour, although a half-mile double row in seven minutes, and is capable of pulling twenty acres per day. We hear by the grapevine that progress is being made on celery harvestors and a cane harvester.

Radish harvesting gives an example of what may be accomplished. Originally they were pulled by hand, bunched, placed in field boxes, taken to the packing house where they were washed, precooled and placed in baskets, all by hand.

First a one-row snapper was used, which removed the tops, and the radish placed in field baskets or placed on trucks, carried to the packing house for processing.

To-day a five-row snapper digger is handled by one man; the radish are deposited in dump trucks

Roads---

The Chance Of A Lifetime!

The proposal to four-lane State Road No. 80 from South Bay to West Palm Beach, US No. 441, south from 80 to the county line, and US No. 27 to Miami from South Bay, is the most definite and promising plan even advocated to give the Glades some respectable road construction.

The real issue — Glades four-laned roads — is being muddled by politicians who could not defeat the proposal in the Florida Legislature, by attributing POLITICS as the main feature of the proposal.

If our getting this near to some GOOD ROADS has been brought about by politics, then we are for MORE and BETTER politics.

You can't say we're not getting our SHARE, for we've never had a share before.

Don't let political machinations by seekers of public office confuse you. There's only ONE question: "Do you want four-laned roads in the Glades or not?"

If we miss the boat this time, there'll be a lot of sugar and vegetables shipped from the Glades before another opportunity.

We haven't enough votes to demand roads, but if we join ALL Florida in voting for the $300 million Bond Issue, then

WE WILL GET ROADS.

14-B Is Important!

The announcement that Administration forces have abandoned hope of repealing 14-B by action of the US Senate this year, doesn't lessen the importance of 14-B.

These few words, which the President promised organized labor to delete from the Taft-Hartley law, apparently in payment for its political support, prevent labor bosses' dictation as to how, when, where and how much pay you may enjoy working for a living.

Now since it has been demonstrated that the dictatorial White House influence may be overridden, promising your and my freedom of choice, in many, many ways, may become less.

Don't take it for granted that this is the last of 14-B repeal action; write your Senator and Representative thanking them for their efforts in beating down this lock on freedom.

The High Cost of Welfarism

For time out of mind, the rallying cry of socialist and other left wing groups everywhere has been nationalization of industry. The goal was to make all enterprise of any size and basic significance the property of the state.

But now, writes Richard E. Mooney in a New York Times article, a profound change in attitude is found on the European continent. There, he says, "... not even Socialists make even more than a perfunctory clamor over the question of nationalization anymore." He cites an example in Germany where that nation's big United Electricity and Mining Company, a government property, is being partially denationalized through the sale of shares constituting a 45 per cent interest to the public.

To quote him again, "Nationalization is no longer a vital central precept of European Socialism. The economic causes that they promote are more ordinary welfare causes, designed to increase personal incomes"

The trend away from nationalization is all to the good—history tells of the failures of governments whose philosophies were rooted in that old idea. At the same time, ominous signs remain. Private enterprise is of value to the welfare state as a producer of tax revenues, as well as of goods and services. But state controls can be, and often are, extended to the point where there is only a technical difference between state and private ownership — freedoms are circumscribed and political power is supreme.

This is a clear and present danger in our own country. The cost of welfarism, measured not only in money but in lost freedom and opportunity, can be unbelievably high.

Uncle Dan From Doolie Says:

DEAR Doolie EDITOR:

Ed Doolie and Clem Webster practiced took over the session at the county store Saturday night.

Ed started at the top by announcing the U.S. Supreme Court had made a bad mistake when they came out here a little while back with that ruling the states has got to set up legislatures on the one-man and one-vote plan.

Ed reported he had given that item a heap of thought for a couple of months and was decided it was going to get too complicated and cost a heap of money.

First off, said Ed, in the Great Society it wasn't but one step from there to voting in tombstones in the family cemetery plot. A heap of them that was dead and gone, claimed Ed, was better qualified to vote than some we got now, and it would be logic in the Great Society for kin folks to honor the memory of them that has gone by casting a vote for 'em. He figured the Supreme Court would then come out with a ruling along the lines of one-family-and-two-tombstones. Furthermore, allowed Ed, when we got this new ruling it wouldn't be more'n a couple months till the Government would furnish perpetual care for all voting graveyards. The Great Society, said Ed, give special attention to anything that could vote.

He was of the opinion that now, since we was taking care of everybody from birth to the funeral home, it made good sense to extend it to the graveyard and on into the hereafter. Furthermore, claimed Ed, the Democrats has fixed it so's you can't take it with you on account of it is gone afore you die, therefore the graveyards was due extra consideration.

Clem was defending the Great Society and this new ruling by the Court. He reported he was always reading in the papers during ever election where some rural counties and places like Chicago was already gitting a big tombstone vote. He said he could recollect reading a few year ago where there was a election in a county in North Carolina and 46 per cent of the total vote checked off on the registration books was names took off of tombstones. He figured it would help keep elections honest if the Supreme Court would just go ahead and make it legal. Personal, Mister Editor, I think Ed, that gits the stumuck ache over time he thinks about the Great Society, was just trying to get an argument out of Clem. I don't know nothing about dividing up our state legislatures in the proper portions and don't believe Ed does. I always figured arguing over politics was a heap like drinking liquor. They was a few men that can do it in moderation but the big majority don't know when to quit.

Yours truly,
Uncle Dan

CLAY CITY, KY., TIMES: "We are on a drunken, spending spree which can lead only to disaster. No one is required to work. There are more government jobs than there are civilian jobs. In fact, the smartest route for the teen-age boy today is to go into government service — either militarily or through one of the 1,000 and 7 other federal agencies which retire you on pension after 20 years. As a federalist state we are quite young. However, history may one day reveal that we fell by the way-side fighting over money — the same way all ancient civilizations have died. Why?"

Where We Fight — DISEASE — of the BODY and MIND

From Army Digest for October, '65,
Story by Col. Stephen W. Edelen
(ret) and Col. Robert M. Cowherd.

THE United States has no designs whatsoever on this country. Our national interests do not require that Viet Nam serve as a Western base or as a member of a Western alliance. Our concern is three-fold.

First, the Republic of Viet Nam, a member of the free world family striving to preserve its independence, has requested our help and we have responded.

Second, to defend Southeast Asia and thus deter further Communist encroachment in this strategically significant area, we must meet the threat in the Republic of Viet Nam.

Third, the Republic of Viet Nam is a test case for Communist strategy. Khrushchev, when still premier, specifically cited Viet Nam in referring to "wars of liberation."

For more than a decade, since the French withdrew after the Geneva Accords of 1954, U. S. Army personnel have been advising and assisting the forces of the Republic of Viet Nam. This has meant organizing, training, supplying, counselling, and developing skills in an environment poorly adapted to modern Army techniques and sophistication. Even more challenging has been the problem of communicating with people who did not understand the meaning of government or democracy.

Mobility has been greatly improved by use of armed helicopters to escort unarmed transport helicopters. In addition, each helicopter in a combat support sortie has a well-trained machine gunner aboard, a modern version of the old Wells Fargo "shotgun rider." Despite the dangers and risks, an enviable safety record has been achieved. The "chopper" has demonstrated its toughness and resiliency in combat. (See "Riding Shotgun in Viet Nam," September 1965 Digest).

In addition to supporting the ARVN, Army aviation has a secondary mission, along with the U. S. Air Force, to provide support to U. S. advisory detachments at isolated locations. Without this support, mail, supplies, and evacuation would take days rather than hours. In many instances, resupply cannot be accomplished overland except by sizable armed troop escort.

Communications. U. S. Army communicators were among the first military troops to be assigned in Viet Nam. Today they are our third largest commitment there.

At major political divisions, the provinces and certain key districts, U. S. detachments advise the Vietnamese province and district chiefs who are responsible for employment of regular and paramilitary forces, as well as administering normal government functions. At the all-important "rice-root" level, they bridge the gap between the purely military aspects of rural reconstruction and the civilian administration and development of the countryside.

Another element of the U. S. Army in Viet Nam is the 5th Special Forces Group, whose small detachments in some of the most isolated areas are concerned with organizing and developing military skills in primitive mountain peoples, including some thirty Montagnard tribes, and several ethnic and religious minorities in lowland areas.

They are trained to stop Viet Cong infiltration, conduct operations against the VC, and extend government influence over the local hamlets and villages by providing for their self-protection from VC terrorist activities. The detachment commander of a Special Forces unit finds himself with more responsibilities during his tour here than many more senior officers.

Air Aviation. In terms of manpower, material, and dollar investment, the U. S. Army aviation commitment in Viet Nam is considerable.

Intelligence. Collecting information and developing an effective combat intelligence capability is a major problem. In an oriental country with a history of intrigue and networks of informers it would seem that the problem of developing an intelligence organization should not be difficult. However, intelligence operations in this counter-insurgency effort differ from that in a conventional warfare situation. The enemy doesn't linger very long in one spot. He seldom masses his forces. He usually lives off the land, and to add to the difficulty he appears no different from the average countryman. But progress is being made. Agencies exist at all levels for planning and executing programs to influence the civil populace, the Viet Cong and the loyal military and paramilitary forces.

Support activities. Frequently taken for granted are the unassuming individuals who look after the health of our forces, the U. S. Army Medical Corps. In addition to manning a number of dispensaries throughout the country, other detachments work to prevent spread of communicable diseases. Still others inspect foods and provide medical sanitation. Highly trained medical technicians serve with the Special Forces teams. Two air ambulance detachments are operating. The 8th Field Hospital is located at Nha Trang and another hospital has been established in the Da Nang area.

Home Nursing Care For Eligible Vets

M. T. Dixon, of the Fla. Dept. of Veterans Affairs, announced today that the Veterans Administration has signed contracts with many community nursing agencies in all parts of the state to put the part-time nursing care program into effect.

The program enables the Veterans Administration to give higher quality medical care to veterans for service connected injuries or illnesses, and all Spanish-American War veterans who can be treated in their own homes under the Home-Town Medical Care Program. The program is expected to free beds in VA hospitals now occupied by patients not requiring constant attention from the doctors and nurses, and which can be taken care of at home. While under the Home Nursing Care Program, the veteran is, at all times, under the care of a fee-basis physician, Regional Office physician, or in the care of a patient, or leave from a VA hospital, by the physicians on the hospital staff.

For information on this, Dixon suggested seeing the Veterans County Service Officer, or write him at P. O. Box 1437, St. Petersburg.

A Little Cooperation With Nature

By tending the grassed banks of the Hillsboro Canal, just east of the North Main Street bridge, pruning the trees, most likely planted by "Pop" Evans when his house as Bridge Tender sat just east of this site, a very inviting and restful outdoor lounge nook is made by the addition of concrete benches. This park was dedicated to Dr. W. J. Buck, a Pioneer, the Leader in this Community following the confusion of the '28 hurricane, and our Medical Practitioner. Col. Buck commanded a 2,000-bed hospital in France during World War I, and was the first Commander of Belle Glade's Everglades Post No. 20 American Legion.

Librarians develop a special talent, not for knowing all the answers, but for knowing where to find the answers.

The tools of this aspect of their trade are the reference books. Many are heavy, and cumbersome, for this is the nature of the books, but any non-fiction on the shelves may be called upon to serve.

Bit by bit the Belle Glade Library is adding to its collection of books from which to answer questions. Here are some new ones:

HANDBOOK OF CHEMISTRY AND PHYSICS, 1964-65:

WIRTsers Unreliable Workers

One of the Glades farmers who is suffering from WIRTs-tus — trying to work only domestics on the farm — made a deal with about a dozen prisoners in the City Jail for minor offenses.

Those who would agree to work on his farm at going wages would be released from the payment of the fines assessed.

Tuesday night, less than 24 hours after the crew had been put to work, one was back in jail for drunkenness.

Another example of the impracticability of the Secretary's dream of utopia.

Get Well Soon

Bad luck has come to two Rams supporters in the form of illness and injury.

Both the captain of the Varsity Cheerleaders, Dee Dee Mikovsky and BG mascot, "Rummy" were "laid up" last week.

Dee Dee spent time in the hospital but is now much better.

During his stay in South Bay, Rummy was attacked by a pack of dogs who apparently were not aware of his important position.

We wish them both a speedy recovery and will welcome them back.

Chapter Votes Participation In Carnival

Mrs. William Graber was hostess for the Xi Beta Gamma Chapter, on Thursday evening, October 14th.

The Chapter voted to sponsor a booth at the Halloween Carnival with the other chapters of the sorority.

Mrs. William Burke, Social Chairman, announced that plans were completed for a football party to be held at the home of the Hector Ouellette in South Bay, after the Clevelation game. All of the coaches and their wives will be guests.

Further plans were discussed for the annual Christmas Party to be held December 11th, with the Beta Xi and Iota Epsilon Chapters.

Ways and Means Chairman, Mrs. Frank O. Anderson, reported that a rummage sale is planned for November 27th.

Mrs. Earl Lindroos gave a very interesting report on the Beta Sigma Phi Convention at Tampa, which was the topic of the program presented by Mrs. Graber and Mrs. Louise Kirchman.

Mrs. Ouellette, speaking over the top of her horn-torned specs was a delight to the members as she presented her part of the program, "Easy and Informative."

During the social hour, the chapter celebrated the birthdays of Mrs. Ouellette, Mrs. Kirchman and Mrs. Eddie Jones. They were presented lovely yellow carnation corsages. The eye-catching table bouquet of daisy pom-poms, was arranged in a white, revolving bowl, which to everyone's surprise, came forth with the strains of "Happy Birthday."

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Burke, with Mrs. Joe LaFlam, Mrs. Charles Burkett and Mrs. Burke in charge of the program.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Lee J. Schwab of 825 Cleveland Road, West, Huron, Ohio, are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Janis Lee to Dr. Donald A. Flecha, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Flecha, 543 Southeast 7th Drive, Belle Glade.

A 1958 graduate of Sandusky High School, Sandusky, Ohio, Miss Schwab received her Bachelor of Music Education degree from Capital University, Columbus, Ohio, in 1962. For two years she taught in the Sandusky Public School system before accepting her position as Choral Director of Belle Glade Junior and Senior High Schools.

Dr. Flecha is a graduate of Belle Glade High School and received his Bachelor of Business Administration degree from the University of Miami. In 1961 he received his Doctor of Optometry degree from the Illinois College of Optometry after which he established his practice in Belle Glade.

The couple is planning a December 26th wedding which will take place in Nativity Lutheran Church, Palm Beach Gardens, Florida. They will be married by the Rev. David A. Wolter, former associate pastor of Zion Lutheran Church, Sandusky, Ohio, and the bride-elect's great uncle, Dr. Leonard L. Ludwig, Doctor Emeritus of the Evangelical Lutheran Theological Seminary, Columbus, Ohio.

Woman's Club To Hear Panel On New Library

The Belle Glade Woman's Club will hold its regular meeting Thursday, Oct. 21 (today) at 3 p. m. in the Community Center.

The program for the day is in charge of the Library Committee, of which Mrs. J. A. Winchester is general chairman, and will be in the form of a panel discussion by the following members of the library committee: Mrs. William A. Thibaud, Mrs. Joseph Orensing, Mrs. Ernest S. Roberts, and Mrs. Winchester.

Since the City of Belle Glade has made definite plans to build a new library in the City Park, the Library Committee of the Woman's Club is making some very definite plans for the furnishing of the building. These plans will be assured during the panel program and they will make a report as to what the committee has already done along these lines.

This proves to be an interesting program, one in which all members should be vitally interested.

Mrs. S. Knight, president requests that each member make a special effort to be present, so that you may be informed about this worthwhile project.

Millage Tax Increase To Be Voted Nov. 2

The controversy and misunderstanding about the millage allowance where there has been a re-assessment in a county is unfortunate. And, I think it arises in this way: The 1963 session of the Legislature passed an act providing that where a re-assessment occurs in a county for a period of ten years, from 1963 to 1973, it is required under the law to roll back the millage in direct proportion to the amount of increase in the assessment.

It was provided in the 1963 act that for a period of two budget years, 63-64 and 64-65, that a county that re-assessed then rolled back the millage could, under proper procedures, such as notices and public hearings, bring the millage back up to a total of 15 percent above the reduced figure.

Then, the Legislature in 1965 decided that they would make that a permanent requirement at any time beyond the 10 year period.

when a county re-assessed they would roll back the amount of increase in millage in any one year. That law, however, does not go into effect until January of 1966.

So the result is, we have a requirement that a county that has re-assessed in the budget year of 1965-66, while his budget now being considered, would have to reduce the millage back to a point that would be in proportion to the amount of the increase. However, for this one year, there is no longer a requirement limiting the total to a 15 percent increase. It is unfortunately a year of "limbo."

Every county school board is also restricted by the constitutional limit (Chapter 237, Florida Statutes) allowing the maximum of 10 mills for the school board and 10 mills for the trustees or a maximum of 20 mills. So for this one year, if they are within the maximum allowed by the constitution of Florida, they are within the law as it is written in the statutes.

Sentry Dogs In Training

The Glades Correctional Institution is training two German Police dogs which they obtained from the Florida Institution, for the purpose of Sentry duty. "We do not expect to train these two to track," says Director Curlee.

In addition to the two police Sentry dogs, the Institution has six hounds for tracking.

FPCA Serves Nearly 4,000 Farmers In Financing Fla. Agriculture

Nearly 4,000 Florida farmers, growers and ranchers were being served with nearly $86 million in short and intermediate-term credit on August 31, 1965 by the 10 production credit associations throughout Florida, according to Chas. B. Long, Jr., general manager of the Farmers' Production Credit Association.

Mr. Long, who has just returned from a meeting of PCA executive committee and credit personnel held at Orlando, reported that the loan volume of these farmer-owned and operated credit cooperatives in Florida has increased by over $13 million during the past year in meeting the increased credit needs of agriculture in the state.

The role of directors, managers, and credit men of production credit associations in credit administration was the principal subject discussed at the meeting and Mr. Long said, "It is necessary that Florida farmers, growers and ranchers employ more good management and do more sound financial planning in order to handle the increased amount of capital required in Florida agriculture today."

Dr. H. B. Clark, Department of Agricultural Economics at the University of Florida, Gainesville, was the guest speaker at the meeting and spoke on "Financing Modern Agriculture."

Mr. Long was accompanied to the meeting by the following officers and directors of the Farmers' Association: Mr. Harry B. Matthews, President, Earl Davis, Asst. Secretary-Treasurer, James Smeenge, Branch Office Manager, Muriel D. Perry, Branch Office Manager, Billy Ingram, Representative, and Ronald Jones, Representative.

Panther & Bear Avoid Glades Areas Cattle Slaughter At Record

While riding down the Miami Canal the other day we stopped to look at a property. Suddenly a large buck made a graceful leap across a canal some 600 feet away. A couple of miles farther down the canal a buck and a doe leisurely crossed the dike in front of us.

We could not help but think that there are many who have lived in the Glades for years but have never enjoyed the sight of some of the large wild animals which will not be known in the area within a few years.

Only a few years ago deer would occasionally come to the area where the Florida Cane Growers Cooperative Mill now stands, but there are serious doubts if there is a deer at the present time between highway 98 and 441 from twenty mile Bend to the Lake.

Around 1955 a bear was killed near the Brown Farm as he robbed some beehives, but we doubt if a bear has been known to be in all the Glades since that time.

Though all wild life will be protected on the 32,000 acre Big B Ranch, it is doubtful if deer will continue to use the area when development of that area is completed.

The large areas of sugar cane developed within the past few years will not diminish the population of wildcat and panther which thrive on the rabbits and rodents living among the cane.

Panthers? Yes, there are a few in South Florida but not many. Three years ago one was seen near the present location of Florida Sugar Mill and infrequently they are seen in the older cane fields. They range over a larger area than any other wild animal of the South Florida area and are seldom seen. Several years ago someone wrote that there were possibly not more than 100 in all of South Florida, with Collier being their principal habitat.

Beautiful, timid, and without obvious qualities the Florida deer is nevertheless the most hunted, both in and out of season. Vigilant wild life workers are on the job constantly to protect our wild life but the innocent deer is fighting a losing battle.

The farmer or rancher who develops land has no quarrel with the deer. Ordinarily the rancher welcomes any deer population which inhabits his ranch. Unfortunately the deer just does not feel at home in the intensive cattle operation as carried on in the Glades much area.

J. K. Davis of the Florida Fish and Game office who lives in South Bay says, "We now believe there are not less than fifty or more than 100 panther in Florida. We find that one panther will range over an area of 150 square miles and they are protected because of their scarcity and because of the slight damage they do to domestic livestock.

"We have found that the deer population will actually increase under present supervision with exceptionally wet years seriously cutting down the Glades population," he continued.

A new law passed at the last legislature is of real benefit to us in enforcing hunting laws.

"The new law provides, upon conviction, the confiscation of hunting or fishing equipment and a mandatory five day Jail sentence with a maximum of 1 year and a $200.00 fine. Under the previous law most violators got by with a $25.00 fine."

An Electric Water Heater gives precious peace of mind

...it's cleaner, faster, cool-to-the-touch...and cheaper, too!

Install it anywhere...and you can forget it! Needs no attention...completely automatic. No open flames, no constant burning pilot light. No fumes or odors. Doesn't need vents of fumes...so there's no heat wasted. An Electric Water Heater like a flameless Electric Range is cheaper to buy...and cheaper to use, too, because the average price per residential kilowatt hour is actually 31% cheaper than just 10 years ago! It's cheaper than ever to go ALL electric than to use it in combination with flame-type fuels...and it adds to the joy of modern living. See the modern Electric Water Heaters at your appliance dealer, plumbing or electrical contractor.

MRS. C. W. MIDDLETON SAYS:

"What I like most about my electric water heater is that it is very compact, clean, and so convenient. There's no need to be worried and there's no pilot light to go out."

MRS. BILLY TURBEVILLE SAYS:

"I've had experience with flame-type fuels but would never stand the odor and worry over heat. With my electric range (also electric water heater, clothes dryer, etc.) I am free of both these problems."

call me a cheapskate... I love it!

THERE'S NO MATCH FOR AN ELECTRIC WATER HEATER

Dr. E. S. Weldon Named President Of New College

Dr. Earl S. Weldon, 36, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Dora of this city, who is dean of instruction at St. Johns River Junior College Palatka, was named president of Seminole County Junior College at Sanford, on October 14.

Selection of Dr. Weldon, to lead the new college was based on recommendations from a committee of leading Seminole County citizens appointed by Gov. Burns to serve in an advisory capacity.

Dr. Weldon, who has visited here many times and was a guest speaker at the Belle Glade Lions Club, is married to the former Geraldine Dora, a native of Sanford, Fla. Mrs. Weldon attended Belle Glade Schools from the 5th grade through High School. They met while both were students at University of Florida. The couple has three children.

The new president, a native of Gainesville, received his degrees in Education from the University of Florida. He has taught physical education at Lake City, was Coach and English Instructor and later Principal, at Fort White School in Columbia County. In addition to his career as a teacher he is a Korean War Army Veteran.

Dr. Weldon, whose new job carries an annual salary of $15,000 has also served as a consultant with the Adult Education Division of the Florida Department of Education. Mason Wharton, Chairman of the School Board after meeting with Weldon said "The Board is very well pleased and feels very fortunate to have a man of his calibre here."

The new college expects to begin classes in temporary quarters next September. Dr. Weldon will assume his duties in January and will set up administrative offices.

Proposed Amendments To The Florida Constitution

SPECIAL ELECTION, NOVEMBER 2, 1965

ANALYSIS BY

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS OF FLORIDA

VOTERS—Know the amendments before voting. EVERY VOTE COUNTS. Make yours an informed vote.

The following information includes a brief description of each amendment and a summary of pro and con positions. Check a sample ballot (published in newspapers or available at the polls on election day) to be sure of the order in which the amendments will appear on the ballot. The order will not necessarily be the same as listed here.

Halloween Safety Warning To Tricks Treaters

Halloween activities again will bring swarms of youthful trick and treaters out after dark onto our nation's residential, main and rural streets where they will become one of the yearly traffic problems. A. M. Eisenhart, Jr., Regional Manager of the Allstate Motor Club, pointed out today.

"Although drivers always should be on the lookout for children, the added hazard of children crossing streets at night, from street corners and from behind parked cars, often wearing dark costumes, increases the danger of them being hit by a car," Eisenhart said.

"Parents of young trick and treaters can help insure their child can be seen at night," Eisenhart added. "Children should be instructed to remove their Halloween costume masks when crossing streets to avoid having their vision obstructed. If their costume is basically dark, a white scarf or handkerchief should be tied around an arm, or a white bag for their treat goodies should be given them to carry."

Road Bond Program. Art. IX, added section.

Under the provisions of this amendment as much as $300,000,000 in bonds may be sold by the State for the construction or reconstruction of parts of the primary road system and for payment of 50% of the necessary right of way costs. The amendment provides:

(1) Beginning January 1, 1966, and for the following 20 years, one and one-half cents of the first four cents per gallon tax on gasoline will be placed in a trust fund, the "state roads bond fund."

(2) The fund will be administered by the state Board of Administration (the Governor, the State Treasurer and the State Comptroller), and, through the Florida Development Commission, bonds may be sold with the proceeds to be used by the State Road Department.

(3) No office or employee of the state or any political subdivision of the state may have any direct financial interest in any contract let under the amendment. Violation is punishable as a misdemeanor.

PRO—The program would provide the state with a primary network of good, modern highways, approximating the quality of interstate highways and parkways, not only for the use of its increasing resident population but also as a boost to the tourist industry by encouraging greater travel throughout the entire state. Added gasoline tax revenue from greater tourist use of primary roads would tend to pay off the bonds before the end of the 20 year period. The interest rate is not out of line with other state bond projects. Modern four-lane highways, should help to improve the traffic safety record of the state. Counties would pay only 50% of the cost of rights of way under this program.

CON—There is no emergency with respect to Florida roads such as to require further bonded indebtedness of the state. Florida agencies now have aggregate bonded debts of $812.2 millions of dollars. There are other state needs, such as educational programs, libraries, nursing homes, and recreational facilities for all ages, that are of equal or greater urgency. Because of high interest rates only a relatively small amount $50-$80 million dollars) would actually be added each year by the sale of bonds to the approximate $400 million dollars already being spent annually on road construction. The program could require increased taxes as early as 1967 since costs of bonding and increased maintenance costs of the new highways would use available primary road money. Federal funds for road building might be lost due to the lack of state matching funds.

PRO—The program would provide the state with a primary network of good, modern highways, approximating the quality of interstate highways and parkways, not only for the use of its increasing resident population but also as a boost to the tourist industry by encouraging greater travel throughout the entire state. Added gasoline tax revenue from greater tourist use of primary roads would tend to pay off the bonds before the end of the 20 year period. The interest rate is not out of line with other state bond projects. Modern four-lane highways, should help to improve the traffic safety record of the state. Counties would pay only 50% of the cost of rights of way under this program.

CON—There is no emergency with respect to Florida roads such as to require further bonded indebtedness of the state. Florida agencies now have aggregate bonded debts of $812.2 millions of dollars. There are other state needs, such as educational programs, libraries, nursing homes, and recreational facilities for all ages, that are of equal or greater urgency. Because of high interest rates only a relatively small amount $50-$80 million dollars) would actually be added each year by the sale of bonds to the approximate $400 million dollars already being spent annually on road construction. The program could require increased taxes as early as 1967 since costs of bonding and increased maintenance costs of the new highways would use available primary road money. Federal funds for road building might be lost due to the lack of state matching funds.

(2) to allow the Legislature to divide the state into four or more districts of adjoining counties with a court of appeals in each. A minimum of three judges would be provided for each district, with the Legislature empowered to add to or reduce the number of judges in excess of three. No conditions are stated for the determination of the number of judges in each district.

At present the Constitution provides for three districts for courts of appeal and permits the assignment of no more than five judges to any one district. Three judges per district is the minimum for a panel to hear cases, both in the proposed amendment and in the present Constitution.

If the amendment is approved by the voters an implementing law (HB 978) provides that the Fourth District Court of Appeal will include Brevard, Broward, Indian River, Martin, Okeechobee, Orange, Osceola, Palm Beach, St. Lucie and Seminole counties. The location of the court site within these counties will be made by a 14 member commission composed of the Governor, the Supreme Court Justices and the Cabinet.

PRO — Population increases in the state make necessary the addition of court facilities and increases in the number of judges to prevent long delays in hearing of appeal cases. At present there is a large backlog of cases to be heard in the three established courts of appeal, creating the urgency for the adoption of this amendment.

CON — There is no real emergency at this time requiring a new court. While the need for flexibility to provide court facilities and officials to meet the needs of a changing population is recognized, thorough modernization of the Constitution, including revision of the Judicial article, would accomplish more long-lasting improvement in the Florida judicial system than any piecemeal addition of courts and/or judges.

Taxation on Mobile Homes. Art. IX, Sec. 13, change in section.

The Constitution says that motor vehicles, as property, shall be subject only to one form of taxation, a license tax. The proposed amendment adds to the classification of "motor vehicles" those mobile homes, trailer coaches, house trailers and camper-type mobile homes which are freely movable over streets and highways. Such vehicles may be used either for transportation of persons and property or for housing or for both, and, under the provisions of this amendment, would be subject to license taxes, not property taxes. A schedule of licenses based on the size of mobile homes was passed by the 1965 Legislature (SB 747, chapter 65-46) to take effect if the amendment is adopted.

The amendment further provides that if the "mobile home" vehicles are permanently attached to the ground they are then taxable as real property.

PRO—The classification of the "mobile home" type vehicles as personal property, and therefore subject to ad valorem taxes, is clearly inequitable when other motor vehicles are subject only to license fees. Since there is provision for the determination of the temporary or permanent attachment of the vehicle, less arbitrary decisions on tax classifications can be made under the new amendment. Of each license fee, ranging from $20 to $80 according to size, $15 would go into state revenue funds. The rest would go back to county commissions and school boards according to the number of license fees collected in each county.

CON — The greater number of "mobile home" type vehicles are used as living units and should, therefore, be taxed as real or personal property. Since the use of land is one of the determinants of assessing its value, the use to which a house trailer is put should in part determine its tax status. All personal property tax monies go into county funds. If this amendment passes adding the mobile home vehicles to the classification of motor vehicles, subject only to a license fee, there would be some loss of revenue to the counties.

Clerk of Circuit Court in Palm Beach County. Art. V, addition of subsection.

The proposed amendment, in addition subsection 10, provides that in Palm Beach County the clerk of the circuit court shall also serve as the clerk of the criminal court of record.

Palm Beach voters have already indirectly endorsed the idea by electing a clerk of the circuit court who ran for office with this as a stated objective. The Constitution provides for the two offices separately, thus any merger of the offices, according to opinion given by the Attorney General, could be achieved only by favorable vote on a constitutional amendment.

PRO—The establishment of one office to serve both the circuit court and the criminal court of record would result in increased efficiency and a savings in administrative expense.

CON—There is an advantage in record-keeping to having separate offices for the servicing of courts of differing jurisdictions.

Wounded PFC Glenn Williams In Walter Reed Hospital

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Williams of 1508 NW 12th St., Belle Glade are very appreciative of the consideration of the office of Adjutant General of the US Army, Maj. J. C. Lambert displayed towards them as the parents of Pfc. Glenn P. Williams who is the first Belle Glade service man to be wounded in Viet Nam.

A brother of Glenn, Joe Lee, Jr., is a veteran of the Korean War, and now lives in Belle Glade.

Glenn volunteered when he was seventeen, but the recruiter advised him to delay his service until he had added a year or two. While Glenn is a registrant of the Belle Glade Local Board, he went into the Army as a volunteer in January of this year.

An idea of Glenn's when he entered the Army is that he might be able to finish his schooling when he returned from service. Now, Glenn, is in Walter Reed Hospital in Washington, and according to a telephone conversation with his mother, he is doing fine, although he doubts he will be able to get much use of the left arm which was shattered by the hit he received in the "D" zone of fighting.

Glenn is next to the youngest of nine children, four brothers and four sisters all of whom live in Belle Glade where they came twenty years ago from Monroe County, Tennessee.

In addition to Joe Lee, Jr., there are Douglas, 22, Troy 30, and Leonard 17. The sisters are Mrs. Christine (Raymond) Harper, Mrs. Clara Travis, Mrs. Loraine Mosley and Mrs. Wilma Mosley.

More Hunting Fields Opened For 1965-66

Florida hunters will have an opportunity to hunt dove on twenty-two public dove fields managed by the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission during the 1965-66 hunting season. The fields are located in sixteen counties and will require a $2.00 daily hunting permit with the exception of fields in the Third Conservation District, according to W. B. Copeland, chairman, Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission.

Public dove fields are located in Polk, Highlands, Charlotte, Duval, Suwannee, Franklin, Jackson, Bay Gadsden, Palm Beach, Indian River, Broward, Dade, Collier, Orange and Seminole counties. Other public dove fields are located on the Eglin Military Reservation in Okaloosa, Santa Rosa and Walton counties and in the Apalachicola National Forest in Leon, Wakulla and Liberty counties.

In addition to dove field permits all hunters must possess valid hunting licenses and abide by both statewide hunting regulations and special dove field rules. Dove field permits, special regulations and information may be obtained at the fields or at any of the five Commission regional offices at Panama City, Lake City, Ocala, Lakeland and West Palm Beach.

Jr. Orange Bowl Queen Preliminaries To Be Held In Belle Glade Nov. 6

November 6, is the date set for preliminaries for the Junior Orange Bowl Queen to be held in Belle Glade at the Community Center. Most everyone in the Glades is familiar with the fact that "Our Girl" won the title in Coral Gables and became the Junior Orange Bowl Queen of 1964. Junior Glade, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Junius Harris, was the lucky young lady. "We hope that history will repeat itself and we will have the winner again this year," Contest director Pat Anderson DeVos said. "In any event, we will have three winners in Belle Glade, each girl to compete on an equal basis in Coral Gable at the big contest. Junie was treated royally in Coral Gables and The Patonettes" who were in the Junior Orange Bowl Parade, and given a spot of honor directly in front of Junie's beautiful float . . . a beautiful float for a lovely Belle Glade girl. "We are not looking for glamor, but rather for fresh, wholesome good looks and personality," director Pat Anderson DeVos emphasized. Contestants will be judged on personality, poise and general appearance. Last year, Pat was asked by the Junior Orange Bowl Committee to conduct the contest and did so with the sponsorship of the Chamber of Commerce. Pat has demonstrated her interest in the children of Belle Glade over a number of years and will continue to do so as long as Glades girls desire a chance to enter the Contest, she said. Entry blanks for the contest may be picked up in the office of the Junior High School and must be returned by the deadline, properly signed by the parent or guardian of the girl entering the contest, to Pat Anderson DeVos, 209 N. W. Avenue I. An entry fee of $1.00 will be charged to cover expenses of this contest. A "Junior Miss Belle Glade" will be chosen at the time of the Junior Orange Bowl Preliminary Contest.
